STANFORD, KY. FRIDAY, AUGUST 30, 1889.

NO. 58

The I. J. Man in Casey.

When Circuit Court convened in the merry college commencement month of June, I was so wrapped up in the festivities of that season that the boss of the concern—the editor—had not the heart to suggest a trip to this county or in fact to any place else, for he well knew my weakness for being present when the sweet school girl is transformed to even a sweeter debutant, and when parties by the score are so delightfully elegant that the minds of the average youngsters are changed from thoughts of love, and that is why I am now mingling with the good people in the "State of Casey." Well may I call them good people for if there is a county in my travels that has treated me well when with them and returned me to headquarters with pockets well-filled with that article for which our 60,000,000 people seek, old Casey is the one. I like the soil in her boundary and when I think of the kindness shown me while in and around her county seat, I am almost tempted to seek the height of some honsetop and proclaim as did Patrick Henry on a memorable occasion, "Give me Liberty (Ky.) or give me death."

County court was a very dull day. There were few or no attractions and the yeomanry preferred to remain at home as they should. For a while throngs would come to see the new court-house and even a few would come to get a taste of the apple jack that Liberty used to boast of, but now the court house has been seen by all and the apple jack can be obtained by none and the interest in the place is gradually decreasing. Considerable business was done, however, and particularly was the trade lively in mules, some 20 or 30 changing hands at good prices, ranging from $110 to $170. The merchants did not complain of the dullness either and I judge they were well rewarded for their day's work.

When I was at this place before I noted the remarkable fact that there had not been a child born in this holy city for over 12 years. Since that time hundreds of letters of inquiry from ladies all over the broad universe have been received as to the truth of the statement and to the attributable cause. Some have asked the price of board and some even want to buy lots and build in this land where the cry of the baby is unheard and where sleepless nights, spent in taking care of the wee pieces of humanity, are things past and forgotten.

I had a talk with Maj. Sweeney, the defeated candidate for the legislature, and the old gentleman seemed to be in fine spirits even if he did come in second best. He was very much opposed to making the race, but could not turn a deaf ear to the wishes of his party. Mr. Sweeney attributes his defeat to the lavish use of money and whisky, not by, nor with the content of his honorable competitor, Col. Silas Adams, but by the republicans who canvassed the State for means to carry on the bribery. Not a dollar was used by the democrats, and considering that fact Mr. Sweeney made a tolerably good race, although beaten by over 300 votes.

Judge George Denny, the roaring lion from Lexington, no doubt takes to himself considerable credit for the defeat of the democrats in the legislative race. He howled loud and long from several stumps in the county a few days prior to the election and the judge is one of those fellows who thinks a word from his own lips is a power greater than an even hundred and a big barrel from anybody else. There is nothing like having confidence in one's self.

Lucien's representative elect, Mr. H. C. Warren, was here Monday, attending to his several law suits at this place. He was congratulated on all sides for the splendid race he made, in fact the people here were about as much interested in his race against Preacher Montgomery as they were in their own local races. Mr. Warren is decidedly popular in Liberty and it seemed to do the old gentleman who have known him so long, good, down in their hearts, to shake his hands heartily and express their delight at his victory.

Lewis Withers and Jesse Werten, representing George B. Wearan, Stanford, were here on court day disposing of a lot of buggies, spring wagons, &c. They did a good business, notwithstanding the moon was not hanging as luckily as superstitions Mr. Withers would have had it.

A very noticeable feature of this place is the absence of the fair sex. In vain I have inquired as to where the pretty girls keep themselves and in vain have I sought their abiding place. Only one pretty maiden, in fact whether pretty or otherwise, greeted my eyes from the time I left the favored town of Hustonville early Monday morning until my return Wednesday. I can't account for it, but I firmly believe it is the prime cause of Liberty's remaining a dull, sleepy village, that it is. Import a few sweet-sixteeners and you would find the town more good than a thousand new court-houses, with their cupolas towering high into the heavens, like the one lately completed. The editor of the Liberty Press is a hustler from away back, perhaps as far as Hometown. He runs besides his creditable paper a photograph gallery and a silversmith shop; is some what of a preacher and paints signs and landscapes like a professional. Another man like him should go in partnership and buy Liberty, lease the country around and run things generally.

Old Mr. Royalty, the late postmaster reminds me very much of a fish out of water. For 31 long years he has carefully handled the mails, but Dr. Harrison and Superintendent Wannamaker held a private caucus and decided to oust him. It was a very foolish piece of business, so say the best of republicans, and the good old man would have stayed in office till death had removed him, had the best of them been consulted.

County and Circuit Clerk George A. Prewitt is the happiest man in Liberty. He "hatched" it for a long time and saw the error of his way and now appreciates married life and his handsome wife as much as mortal man can. He has a cozy little home, furnished elegantly, and is in every way prepared to enjoy life. Long live the competent clerk and clever gentleman!

"Uncle" Tom Wash, now in his 80th year, is one of the spryest old gentlemen in the State. Since retiring from the office of county clerk he has removed to the country and has a farm any one might be proud of. The old gentleman again cautioned me to send him the Liberator as long as he lives, and told me that a two-dollar William was ever ready to pay for it.

Married Under Difficulties.

A pretty romance has culminated at the Sweet Chalybeate Springs, just on the line of the two Virginias. S. M. Brooks, of Norfolk, has been for several summers a visitor to the resort. While there he fell in love with Miss Rosa Bunting. The other afternoon all arrangements were made for the marriage at 4 o'clock, but a difficulty arose. The lady was a Catholic, the groom a Protestant and each refused to be married other than by a clergyman of his or her own faith. At last the gentleman consented to be married by a priest. The license was procured in Virginia, the bride's father confessor was sent for, and suiters telegraphed for to the Cumberland hotel at Allegheny, where, at the end of a nine mile stage ride, the married couple intended taking the train for their new home. Then another trouble presented itself. The priest could not come, and another one was sent for over in West Virginia. After some delay he arrived, but to the disappointment of the couple he said he could not perform the ceremony under any license save one from his own State. The wedding supper at Allegheny was countermanded by telegraph, and the groom sent over in West Virginia and obtained another license from that State. At midnight the ceremony was performed and soon afterwards they began their stage ride at night over the mountain roads, reaching Allegheny in the early morning, where they departed on the visible train and are now safely in Norfolk.

DEATH IN THE VINEGAR CREEK. Acting under the provisions of a recent law the Indiana State Board of health has collected samples of vinegars sold in Indiana cities, and has just completed a careful analysis. Of eight samples thoroughly tested but one proved to be pure cider vinegar, and the other seven are nothing more than a decoction of rain water and sulphuric acid. The largest vinegar manufactory in Indianapolis, which claims to sell pure apple vinegar, furnishes the worst stuff that was found among the samples. The secretary says it will destroy the stomach even of an ostrich if used liberally. The law as enacted by the last legislature prohibits the manufacture and sale of any vinegar not the product of pure apple juice. It must not have any artificial coloring, must have an acidity equivalent to the presence of not less than 4 per cent. by weight of acetic acid.

A bright little lad sitting by his father's side in a pew of the Greenberry Presbyterian church, Sunday morning, was given a coin to put in the collection plate. No sooner had he deposited the coin than in a loud whisper and excited manner, he asked: "Papa, have you saved any for the circus?" A smile broad enough to go over a large section of pews was compelled by the circumstances.

You Cannot Afford

At this season of the year to without a good reliable diarrhoea balsam in the house, as cramps, colic, diarrhoea and all inflammation of the stomach and bowels are exceedingly dangerous if not attended to at once. One bottle of Beegs' Diarrhoea Balsam will do more good in cases of the kind than any other medicine on earth. We guarantee it. A. R. Penny, Druggist.

The Pride of Woman.

A clear, healthy and transparent skin is always a sign of pure blood, and all persons troubled with dark, greasy, yellow or blotched skin can rest assured that their blood is out of order. A few doses of Beegs' Blood Purifier & Blood Maker will remove the cause and the skin will become clear and transparent. Try it, and if satisfaction is not given it will cost you nothing. It is fully warranted. A. R. Penny, Druggist.

—Kentucky Conference will be held at Paris Sept. 25, instead of Sept. 11 as heretofore announced. Bishop A. W. Wilson will preside. The change is made to prevent the conflict with the fair, when the people will have all they can do to entertain their friends.

—W. L. Williams and I are now engaged in a very interesting meeting at Middleburg with 3 additions to date. Please say through your paper that I will preach at Rowland on the 3d Sunday instead of the 1st, as I cannot leave here until after Sunday. J. G. Livingston.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—The first session of Crab Orchard College will begin September 2d, 1889. The services of a competent assistant have been secured. We respectfully solicit the patronage of the people of Lincoln county. Having had twenty years' experience in teaching we claim to have learned some of the secrets of imparting instruction. We will earnestly endeavor that neither the time of the pupil nor the money of the patron shall be spent in vain. T. H. Stephenson.

DRIPPING SPRINGS.

The cottages which I rent out for housekeeping will be vacant this week. I have a nice two-room cottage with kitchen and the Governor's Lodge, which contains 3 rooms and cooking department. Will rent either the cottage or lodge from this time until the 15th of September for $10. Will furnish chairs, bedsteads, mattresses and cooking stoves.

Grand Ball Saturday night. There is no better time to be at the Springs than now.

Respect, H. G. SLAUGHTER.

HUMBLE.—Wheat threshing all around and wheat going off at 75 cents at Lancaster. Miss Alice Eubanks, who has been unable for some years to visit any, is now paying Mrs. Carman a visit. She is under the treatment of Dr. Johnstone, of Danville. John Wood sold to a Madison man 90 hogs, weighing 755 pounds, for 44 cts. Underwood & Miller sold Wood some hogs for 41 cts. James Engelman sold Harris some for 41, weighing 120 pounds. M. Herrin sold Wood a nice cow and calf for $30. S. Hubble bought 24 mare mules at Williamsburg at about $85. J. B. and Miss Mattie Robinson have gone to the Shelbyville Fair. Miss Ora Scott has returned home after a visit at James Robinson's for a few weeks. Mrs. George P. Bright is on the sick list. Most all parties have sold their wheat here to the Lancaster Mills for 75 and the rise. Greenberry Bright is very poorly and is not expected to recover, as he is 84 years old. Some peddlers stopped with S. Humber a few nights ago and his horse was taken from the stable and a side of meat from the meat house and next day the horse was found near Danville, but not with the meat and but little gressed. L. G. Hubble has gone to Somerset to spend a few days. Took Hubble has sold the Col. Underwood shekling mule to a party in Richmond for $150, delivered Oct. 1st. It is by Beecher. G. A. Swinebroad sold some ewes at Lancaster for $1.50 and $3.50 per head. Cicero Eubanks is talking of attending a medical school at Chicago.

A happy faculty for rendering one's self useful is an endowment transmitted to some persons by a line of disagreeable ancestors. It is enough to make one regret having had any ancestors at all. When men or women persist in cultivating unlovely traits, they are not only doing a bad thing for themselves and for those with whom they may be brought immediately in contact, but they are entailing wrongs on generations unborn.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Wm. Lawson has a dill and delivered to George Cogar, of Danville, 35,000 lbs. of old hemp at $5.

—James Currey will go on the road as a commercial tourist Sept. 1st. Mr. H. M. Grant and sister Lilly are attending the Lexington Fair.

—The Baptist Association is in session at Burkeye this week and thousands are in attendance. On Wednesday the people poured through our town in buggies and vehicles of every kind on their way to the great religious meeting below.

—It is said that the grand jury indicted Peter Hampton for shooting H. C. Mills. The Lord have mercy on the man who behaves himself and tries to defend himself. As for Mills, he has conducted himself much better, in our town, since he was shot than ever before.

—Taylor Scott, an excellent young man who began clerking for R. H. Batson a few days ago, fell suddenly to the floor while attending to his duties at the store early Tuesday morning. He had been feeling as well as usual previous to the fall. He is now at his father's home in the country in a rather bad condition, his left leg being paralyzed. Sheriff Robinson has been quite sick for a few days, but is out again.

—Circuit Court is moving along about as fast as such things can move. In the case of John Sandifer against the Equitable Accident Insurance Co., asking damages by the policy which he held, for the accidental breaking of his leg on the K. C. railway last fall, the jury gave him $225. This was the sum sued for. The grand jury adjourned Wednesday after returning 47 indictments, found principally against whisky sellers and pistol toters.

—S. C. Benuy has returned looking as bright as ever. He has been on a three weeks' travel through the West, including Texas, New Mexico and San Francisco. J. M. Grand, of Texas, is visiting the family of H. C. Jennings. Miss Rosa Hopper, of Perryville, is visiting Mrs. J. B. Brewer. Col. Collier will go to Louisville to take charge of the Surveyor's office about the middle of next week. It is pretty well settled that Clod Johnson, Wm. A. Berkle and Will Collier of this place, will get positions in the office.

Salvation for Every Man.

(For the Interior Journal.)

We propose to write a few short articles in reference to man and his organization, and first we wish to show that God has given to every man certain natures for his comfort and enjoyment, for you will recollect man is a compound or complex being and the reason that man is not happy here and hereafter is because he violates certain laws the Heavenly Father has given him. That God "wills that" men shall come to a knowledge of the truth and love, hear what He says, "Come unto Me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest," again, "God so loved the world that He gave his only begotten son, that whosoever believed on Him might not perish, but have everlasting life," again, "God is no respecter of persons, for in every nation he that feareth Him and worketh righteousness is accepted of Him" and many such passages in the Bible. Now if the above scriptures be true all men can be saved if they will. Hence we come to the conclusion that God, agreeable to His nature and laws, and man's organization has done all that is necessary to be done to save man, that He does not permit sin, neither can He prevent it. We admit He has all power, that He can make worlds, but we are speaking of God and man—that He has done and will do all that is necessary for his salvation and this is recorded in the Bible. Hence the gospel is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth, Romans 1:16; again "For there is no respect of persons with God," Rom. 2:11; "Whosoever heareth these sayings and doeth them I will liken him unto a wise man that built his house upon a rock," hence the comparison to the foolish man that built his house upon the sand. Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter, "Fear God and keep his commandments for this is the whole duty of man"—Solomon. We propose in a short article to show or try to show that every faculty and desire that was given to man was for his happiness and pleasure. Strike, but hear me. J. R. WATKINS.

We would like to see the whipping-post law passed in this State, and the law so framed that the man so depraved as to strike his wife, should receive 100 lashes for every time he laid his hand upon her. The whipping post would decrease crime and lessen the number of convicts in the State prisons.—Columbus Forum.

W. P. WALTON.

ATLANTIC CITY is all torn up over the attempted murder of her wet nurse by Mrs. Robert Ray Hamilton, whose husband is the grand-son of the late Alexander Hamilton. It seems that Hamilton, who used to be a pet of New York society, became a frequenter of houses of ill-fame, where he became infatuated with the prostitute he afterwards made his wife. She has led him a merry dance and caused him to squander a large fortune, besides giving him cause from the start to regret his rash step into matrimony. It appears that she had an old lover, who continued to follow her, and with whom she had made an assignation in New York. Hamilton became apprised of this and protested, when the she-devil rushed at him with a dagger. The nurse endeavored to restrain her, when with an oath she plunged the weapon into the woman's abdomen, exclaiming as she did so: "You are the cause of this and you'll never watch me again!" The would-be murderess was taken in custody and the probability is that she will have to stand trial for her life. It is passing strange that men will marry such women when there are so many pure ones to be had for the asking. There is hardly an instance on record of their thorough reform and they usually make life a hell to the fool who tries to lift them to respectability. Hamilton deserves no sympathy, however. He is no better than the woman and having made his bed with her, should suffer the consequences of bringing disgrace on a fair family name.

A St. Louis paper had one of its reporters to enlist in the army to find out the reason that the desertions are so large and constantly increasing. He says that it is because the officers are so overbearing and their treatment is so rough by the little fellows with shoulder straps who are clothed in a little brief authority. That may be all so, but we were talking with a soldier at Fort Monroe recently on the same subject and he informed us that the reason could be found in the fact that the recruiting officers were not particular enough. A lazy fellow would enlist in the fall to get his board, clothes and $13 a month during the cold weather and as soon as spring made its appearance he would take a walk and never return. His indolence would be lost in the vast aggregation of human beings and the next fall he would be ready to repeat the performance. The punishment for desertion in time of war is death, but in time of peace confinement at Fort Leavenworth for a year or so, which that character of human beings do not fear to risk, with the chances so much in their favor.

A good deal more has been said about the failure of the executive committee to name delegates to the National Editorial Association than the importance of the matter demanded, and we regret that we joined in it to some degree. The National Association is not composed of the leading editors of the country and the object of its meeting seems more for the benefit of those who love to dead-head on railroads and communities than for any special benefit to the profession. Chairman Charles M. Grubb had good excuse for not attending to the appointment of delegates sooner as he has not only had a sick wife for months, but has lost their first born within the last month. The objection raised to the committee by Judge Tipton as to politics was very much out of taste, for our association recognizes no politics and Col. Johnson says he would soon introduce it in church as into our brotherhood.

SOMETIME ago Corporal Tanner had the pension of Senator Manderson re-rated by which that individual was given $1,000 back pay. The newspapers raised a howl over the clear gratuity and public sentiment joined in the protest. The result is that Manderson has cancelled and returned the check for the grab to the treasury. Tanner, himself, irresponsible as he is, is chafing under the comments of the press as to his profligacy, and it is pretty sure he will call a halt. The people are not disposed to turn the country and its treasury over to him and the sooner he "catches on" the better for all.

GEN. CHALMERS, although defeated for Congress in the second Mississippi district, by 8,000 majority, will contest the election, first because it pays to do so and second because the republicans will be in control of the House and are likely to put in members of their party without excuse or reason, except to increase their majority. Col. Breckinridge thinks however that there will not be much of a fight in Congress over contested seats, as the republicans will learn early in the session that the democrats will submit to no partisan injustice.

THE City of Paris has beaten her record again, making the trip across the Atlantic in 5 days, 19 hours and 18 minutes, 13 hours and 49 minutes less than before. This racing across the ocean will have a stop put to it before long by the most appalling marine disaster ever known.

THE evidence of Corporal Tanner's absence of capacity is cumulative while his smallness of mind is fully portrayed in this extract from a raucous speech on pensions made at the New York Chautauqua: "Henry Watterson, who was a rebel at heart, without the heart to fight, has said that the size of pensions granted by the commissioner depended upon his condition. If he was sober he would give the boys $12. If drunk, as he usually was, he would give $24. The only time I ever saw Henry Watterson was in Washington, and he was drunk himself then." Referring to this the Courier-Journal says that it is disgraceful to the administration, and a blot upon the public service of the country, that a man capable of making an attack so wanton and indecent upon any one, and most of all upon one whom he does not personally know, and who has given him no cause for private grief or offense, should hold an office of importance under the government. No circumstance could better illustrate the spirit of the agrarian raid upon the treasury proposed in the name of patriotism, or the character of the individual who leads it, than the loose gabble of this irresponsible blackguard. Not a word has appeared in these columns to give him just occasion for anger, so the unprovoked assault discloses not only his own want of sense, dignity and principle, but, at the same time, the sinister methods by which he expects to rekindle the dying embers of war, whilst he, and his followers, steal a march upon the tax-payers. It has been a rule of this office, enjoined upon each and every one of our irrepressible young men, never to tilt with a fool, nor to fight with a cripple; and, since it is well for doctors to follow their own prescriptions, it shall in this instance be rigidly applied by Mr. Watterson to Mr. Tanner.

Not content with taking $100,000,000 a year from the treasury, the G. A. R. at Milwaukee are howling for more money. Commander Warner demands the enactment of the pauper pension steel, that Cleveland had the courage and honesty to veto, and says that the comrades should not give sleep to their eyes nor slumber to their eyelids till this justice is done. He declares for unity, believing that in it lies their hope of finally capturing the treasury of the country. No patriotic man objects to the pensioning of worthy survivors of the war, but if the rest of the country don't soon call a halt on the indiscriminate issuing of pensions, we are mistaken in the character of our people.

To the surprise of most people the jury in the Pulliam case, at Brandenburg, brought in a verdict after 24 hours deliberation, finding him guilty of murder in the second degree and fixing his punishment at 15 years in the penitentiary. The verdict was evidently a compromise as the evidence showed that Pulliam was either guilty of murder or he should have been acquitted. The result is better than a mistrial, however, and if the Court of Appeals, to which the case will be taken, will let the sentence stand, it will show men who place a money value on their wives honor, that they cannot murder with impunity when the victim refuses to pony up.

THE Louisville Truth, in search of something sensational, has a long article locating the Illinois Dutch Christ on a magnificent place near Richmond, where he puts pretty damns through the garden of Eden test, he playing the role of Adam and they that of Eve, with no more on their bodies than that pair had before they sought a covering of leaves. The story is quite a clever work of imagination, but the Madison people are not especially pleased to have so arrant a fraud located in their midst.

THE Courier-Journal is right in raising an objection to the making of Jeff Davis' birthday a legal holiday in certain States. Mr. Davis is intellectually one of the greatest men the country ever produced, but he was the leader of the attempt to break up the Union, which, while he was sincere in the belief that he was doing right, can never be condoned by the people of the North. It could do Mr. Davis no good and it might serve to rekindle the dying embers of sectional hate.

SOME scoundrels are doing Washington and adjoining counties in the apparent interest of a nursery, but in reality are working the patent medicine scheme. The wonderful drug, it is claimed, will prevent conception and can be obtained from these fakirs at a good round price. One Dr. Waters is at the head of the business, who is described as a large blue-eyed, light-haired individual, against whom the public is warned.

EDITOR LEWIS, of the Frankfort Roundabout, writes French Tipton that he never heard of his Climax till he saw the sign while passing through Richmond on one occasion. This was intended to annihilate Tipton, but, if true, the thing is as rough on Lewis as it is on him. To acknowledge that one has never heard of the great Climax is to argue himself unknown.

It is stated that Senator Beck is himself again, which will be good news to Kentuckians. It was thought that he would never rally again and that two, instead of one Senator, would have to be elected this winter, but the old Scotchman is good for many a battle for democracy yet, it is a pleasure to know.

THE Ohio democrats seem to be thoroughly united and determined on victory. They held their State convention at Dayton, Wednesday, amid great enthusiasm and unanimously nominated Hon. James E. Campbell, of Butler, for governor, while the band played "The Campbells are Coming." The platform is a clear declaration for tariff reform, declaring the battle on till the cause of the people is triumphant; trusts are denounced; just, equitable and liberal pension laws to the Nation's heroes are approved; the republican party is denounced for its evasion of the civil service law; the State government is condemned as extravagant, demoralizing and partisan; and an investigation of the financial affairs demanded; declares for local self government and against the power of the governor to control by appointment local boards in leading cities; favors home rule for Ireland and demands it for Ohio. If the party is victorious, as it says it will be, it will forever shelve Little Breches Forker and set the seal of condemnation on third term advocates. It is going to take work to dislodge the fortified cohorts of the enemy, but the democrats have done such a thing before in Ohio and are confident they can do it again.

MILWAUKEE is jammed with members of the G. A. R. In the language of Flanagan, of Texas, slightly paraphrased: What are they there for except for pensions?

HUSTONVILLE. Reminiscence Sketch, No. 3.
To the Editor of the Interior Journal.
About 60 years ago in the little burg in West Lincoln there lived a man by the name of Kennedy, a tailor by profession and a very eccentric kind of a man; always ready and so full of fun that he would frequently use his jokey twits and taunts upon his best friends. The said Kennedy was passing up the road from Stanford one day, and when just in front of Uncle Johnny Hocker's house, by which the road ran, and near where the little village of Turnersville once stood, he heard a considerable racket, apparently among children, and upon looking around and stopping his horse, he said he counted in the rear part of Hocker's yard 13 little Hocker children upon one mulden stalk and several gamboling on the ground underneath.

There lived also in the west end of our county, as our older citizens well know, Uncle Sammy Williams, known as a strong Jackson man, and great lover of hard money, especially gold dollars; would sell the products of his farm a little cheaper for the gold dollar than he would for paper money. Uncle Sammy, however, was one of our best and most substantial citizens, strictly upright and always full of good cheer. Kennedy, the hero of our dream, approached Uncle Sammy upon one occasion in or near the burg at a gathering, house-raising or log-raising, perhaps, common in that day, and just the place he liked to get the subjects for his pranks, and said, "Uncle Sammy, I had a dream last night." "What was it?" asked Sammy, with a glow of good feeling, apparently expecting something amusing. "I dreamed you and I both died, but I died a little before you did, and that we both went to Heaven."

And there we stood without the gate, Sammy, but heard the sweetest sounds, It was angels singing within, Sammy, Where glory showed all around.

And there we stood knocking, knocking Sammy, Standing entirely without the gate, Yet in our anxious moments, Sammy, We knew it was best to wait.

Yes, we waited—waited on, Sammy, The Shepherd's voice will be at the door, The gate then will swing wide, Sammy, And we'll be admitted on Canaan's shore.

As I arrived at the gate a little before you and knocking, a voice within answered, "Who is there?" "Kennedy, from Hustonville." The gate opened, with the invitation, "Walk in." The gate then closed. A little while after you came to the gate and knocked. A voice within said, "Who is there?" "Sammy Williams." All was still again, except low-toned voices within, apparently in counsel, but you continued to knock, and in a few moments a voice inside exclaimed, "Who is there?" "Sammy Williams, from Hustonville, an elder in the Presbyterian church." All was silent again for a moment, but you continued to knock, when the gate swung ajar, not however, wide enough for admittance, but you, continuing to knock, the gate slowly widened, until wide enough for you to barely squeeze through, when in you slipped and immediately fell down upon your all fours and commenced grabbing up the golden pavements, which you held with a death-like grip. Just then I awoke. It was all a dream!

AN OLD CITIZEN.
Stanford, Aug. 1889.

"Whisky never misses fire," said a man to me the other day. No, it never does. It is sure to bring down its victim sooner or later, whether he be high or low in the social or intellectual scale. And fluttering all about him will be the wounded hearts of mother, father, wife, children, sisters, brothers and friends, while beyond and behind all this is too often a trail of ruined virtue and contaminating influences. At least six hearts on an average carry a lifelong, overshadowing, dreary sorrow for every victim alcohol brings down. The undertow of all family and social life is largely silent sorrow and dreary heartache over victims of alcohol. No, whisky never misses fire, never.—American (Ga.) Republican.

In the territory between Hobbs Ferry and Tarrytown, a distance of only six miles, there reside at the present time 63 millionaires, and it is doubtful if any such cluster of rich persons can be found in a similarly small territory in any other part of the world. Several of these persons have fortunes so gigantic as to have attracted the attention of the entire world. Among the number are men who are in charge of some of the largest railroads, telegraph companies, banks and trust companies of the nation. These 63 persons are, upon careful computation, estimated to be worth more than $500,000,000 in the aggregate.—New York Times.

"Why would a barber rather shave three Irishmen than one German? You give it up? Of course you do. Well, because he'll get 45 cents from the three Irishmen and only 15 cents from the German."

The Pride of His Class.
He was a bright, handsome, young man, sun-tanned, brilliant and engaging, the delight of his parents, the joy of his home and the pride of his class. But a shadow fell across his bright prospects. It began with a trifling cough, soon came pneumonia, then consumption, his strength failed, his cheeks grew hollow, and he seemed doomed to an early grave. Then a friend advised Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. He tried it, and was saved. Health and strength returned, his cheerful voice rang out again across the school playground, his cheeks grew rosy, his eyes bright. He is still "the pride of his class" and he graduates this year with highest honors.

Chronic Nasal Catarrh positively cured by Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, 50c, by druggists.

Wilson Howard, who is causing all the trouble in Harlan county, is a young man of short stature, squarely, but not heavily built, and although he is reported to have killed from 12 to 18 men, he is only 24 years old. He has been wild and reckless ever since he reached his teens, killing his first man when he was only 15. After killing six or eight men in this State he went West and joined the "cowboys," where he showed his training to an advantage in robbing two stage coaches and killing and robbing a deaf mute near Springfield, Mo. He was captured by the sheriff of Cass county, Mo., but escaped, after killing the sheriff and constable. The West got too hot for him and he returned to Harlan last year and celebrated his return by shooting some windows out of the court-house and stirring up a bitter strife which finally involved some of the leading citizens of the town and county. A big reward is offered for Howard by the governor of Missouri, but it will take a company of soldiers to take him away from his friends. At least that is what a man who knows him and from whom we got the above information is inclined to believe.—Times.

To suppress lawlessness and capture the lawbreakers, a suggestion is made to create a standing State police force to act instead of the military when needed. It has been found that the military has done good work, but there is one insuperable objection. No move can be made by the State militia without the matter being public and thus giving warning. A State Police Force stationed in Frankfort at the call of the Governor would meet that objection. He could order the men out secretly at a moment's notice. It is proposed to put about 50 or 60 good men on regular pay, with some such courageous man as Marshal Hunter, of Bardonia, for captain.

Of the 31 trotters with records of 2:16 or better at the close of last season, the blood of Hambleton appears in all but 8 of them—Guy, Rarus, Hopeful, Lulu, Smuggler, Clemmie G., Phyllis and White Stockings. Mambrino Chief is represented in 13, American Star in 10, Abdallah in 4 outside of Hambletonian, Pilot, Jr., in 3 and George M. Patchen in 3. The Morgan family, generally thro' the Vermont Black Hawk, crops out in 11; the Clay family in 9; pacing strains in 10 and thoroughbreds in 10.

RHEUMATIC AND NEURALGIC CURE.
The following is a French remedy for neuralgia and rheumatism, which is going the rounds of the press: Take ten grains of salicylic acid three times a day for three days, and if very severe take the same amount four or five times a day; this is a simple remedy and it is hoped that all afflicted with neuralgia and rheumatism will give it a trial.

The Annals of Hygiene has discovered there is nothing that so quickly restores tone to exhausted nerves and strength to a weary body as a bath containing an ounce of aqua ammonia to each pail of water. It makes the flesh firm and as smooth as marble, and renders the body pure and free from all odor.—Scientific American.

It is announced that the Pennsylvania railroad will soon run, as an experiment, a car made entirely of iron and steel, which its inventor claims will be not only fire proof, but more comfortable than the wooden cars. It will be furnished with pipes for ventilation in summer and heating in winter.

The little boy was on his knees in his little night dress, saying his prayers, and his little sister couldn't resist the temptation to tickle the soles of his little feet. He stood it as long as he could and then he said, "Please, God, excuse me while I knock the stuffing out of Nellie."—San Francisco Chronicle.

First the bustle was discarded, now the chemise has been cast off. If the women will just continue this warfare on dress, they will soon return to the delightful primitive costume worn by Mrs. Eve before she made her dress of fig leaves.—Callahan Constitution.

The Verdict Unanimous.
W. D. Salt, druggist, Bingham, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: "The best salve I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only half dollar a bottle at A. R. Penny's drug store.

Is Consumption Incurable?
Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Abscess of the Lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me incurable consumptive. Begon taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, am now on my third bottle and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made." Jesse Middleton, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died of Lung Trouble. Was given up by doctors. Am now in the best of health." Sample bottles free at A. R. Penny's drug store.

Why Is It?
That people linger along saying complaining about that continual tired feeling? That bottle of Higgs' Blood Purifier and Blood Maker will entirely remove the feeling, give them a good appetite and regulate digestion. A. R. Penny, Druggist.

It is the wisest thing in the world for a woman traveling alone to regard all the men she meets as gentlemen, and to display the presence of that conviction in her mind directly she is approached by them in any way. A card will usually be at great pains to avoid disturbing the illusion when he finds himself taken for a gentleman. A gentleman would break his neck rather than peril upon the evident good opinion of him. Men have a beautiful regard for womankind in the abstract. They may be quite capable of abusing the particular woman dependent upon them, but they all of them are just full of courtesy and kindness for the woman they meet on the streets, in cars and depots. Also they are likely to treat with every consideration the damsels whom chance of travel throw upon them for protection.—Ladies' Home Journal.

THE TOWER OF PISA.—The leaning tower of Pisa is 172 feet high, or, as another authority gives it, 179 feet, and leans 13 feet from the perpendicular. Its construction was begun in the year 1174 by Bonanno di Pisa and William of Innsbruck. It is made of pure marble, is divided into eight stories, each having an outside gallery projecting 11 feet. The summit is reached by 330 steps. There are seven bells on the top, so placed as to counterbalance the leaning of the tower, the heaviest of which weighs 1,200 pounds.

A new course of intoxication has been discovered. It is simply dry tea, eaten of course before it is steeped. It produces an agreeable effect at first, but indulgence finally causes sleeplessness, disorderly impulses and delirium. Not a few persons have already been found to have contracted this deadly form of the tea habit.—Good Housekeeping.

—As the butcher adds his hand to the weight of the steak, he piously sighs to himself: "I love to steal a white weight."
